

I am sending this message because I hope you are going to change Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law. I would be very disappointed if this happened. I used to get 10-15 calls per week. These would wake me on Saturday and Sunday morning and continuously interrupt me as I was trying to accomplish tasks in the house. I feel telemarketing is an invasion of my privacy and these people should be arrested for harassment. I would even take the time to explain how I would never buy something from the telemarketer and request they never call me again. Two to four weeks later, the same company would call again. Please do not change this law. My life is much more peaceful since I was placed on the "No Call List".

Thank you for your time.
